

Sample Crime Scene 2 Prank

Working after school one day, Dr. Robertson, Science Olympiad B Coach extraordinary was filling the bottles of mixed chemicals used for teaching Crime Busters when the office called over the intercom to come to the office because the principal needed some help filling out some forms. Dr Robertson did not expect to be gone long & as it was after school, did not lock the door. Upon returning, Dr Robertson found all the labels torn off the bottles & a note in pencil saying “You think you are so smart, see if you can figure this out.” Dr. Robertson had just caught 2 students cheating & it was assumed this was what the note referred to. Dr. Robertson looked out a window & saw a student hurriedly riding a bike away, while constantly looking back. Dr. Robertson could not tell who the student was. The student was not paying attention ahead & crashed the bike into bramble bushes. The police were thus able to obtain footprints, tire tracks, & DNA. The police also found a puddle of juice & some pieces of plastic on the floor in Dr. Robertson’s room.
