Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered for the 35th Annual Science Olympiad National Tournament.

Each year, this exciting tournament brings together the country’s best Science Olympiad teams, representing more than 2,000 students who skillfully demonstrate the importance of teamwork, problem solving, and collaboration. I applaud the entire Science Olympiad organization and everyone in attendance for your dedication to increasing participation in the science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) fields, and as a result, building a better, stronger future for our students, our workforce, and our State.

On behalf of all New Yorkers, I am pleased to join in recognizing this year’s award recipients for their exemplary leadership and commitment to using their intellectual gifts to positively impact their schools and communities. Congratulations, and best of luck in your undoubtedly bright futures.

With warmest regards and best wishes to all for a terrific tournament and much future success.

Sincerely,

ANDREW M. CUOMO
